

Brenda Vingiello

Chief Investment Officer

Sand Hill Global Advisors

Brenda Vingiello is Chief Investment Officer of Sand Hill Global Advisors, a Silicon Valley based wealth management firm that has been dedicated to helping families, businesses, endowments and foundations navigate the complexities of life for over 35 years. She is also a CNBC Contributor and regularly appears on the Halftime Report.

Before joining Sand Hill, Ms. Vingiello was an equity analyst at RS Investments where she focused principally on growth stock investing. Prior to RS Investments, she was an Analyst and Assistant Portfolio Manager at RCM Capital Management, where she managed a small and midcap equity product.

Ms. Vingiello is an Endowment Trustee for the Boys & Girls Clubs of San Francisco, serves on the organization's Finance Committee, and is an Emeritus Board member. She is a member of the CFA Institute and the CFA Society of San Francisco.

She earned her B.A. from University of California, Santa Cruz and holds the Chartered Financial Analyst Designation.